Rockefeller Announces Candidacy

Says He'll Enter New Hampshire, Other Primaries

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president today and said he would enter the New Hampshire and other presidential preference primaries between now and the Republican National convention next July.

"I have reached this decision because I believe that vital principles are at stake in the next presidential election," Rockefeller said in a statement to a gathering of newsmen at the state capitol.

Rockefeller said:

"These principles and the policies to best support them must be brought before the American people and the delegates to the Republican National Convention for their thoughtful consideration."

Rockefeller renewed his charge that the national administration of Democratic President Kennedy had failed to understand and meet "the menace of international communism," to stimulate the economy and to strengthen the unity of the free world.

Rockefeller did not refer in his brief statement to his role as the underdog in what has been the undeclared contest for the nomination.

Nor did he refer to his divorce and remarriage, which have been largely blamed for his currently poor standing in polls on the nomination.

Rockefeller proposed that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and other potential candidates also enter the New Hampshire primary.

"It is my sincere hope that other candidates will make use of the (primary) so that all of their views will be clearly known," he said.

The New Hampshire primary presents an excellent opportunity to do so, forthrightly and undiluted by fence-straddling or doubletalk of any kind."

Rockefeller, who did not mention Goldwater by name, has been challenging the Arizona senator to join him in a series of debates to determine what positions the Republican party should take on major issues. Goldwater has refused on grounds of party unity.

The governor arranged to leave for New Hampshire immediately after his announcement.

Rockefeller, who has sought in recent months to associate Goldwater with extremism, said he was certain Republican convention delegates would "write a platform and select a candidate consistent with the basic principles of the Republican party and the realities of the world in which we live."

He began reading his prepared statement without any preliminary comment. He concluded the reading with a "Thank you" and swept out of the room before newsmen could buttonhole him for questioning.

The announcement was televised live on a national network (NBC's "Today" show).

The New Hampshire primary March 10 will be the first in the nation.

Plane Crash Kills Four In Ravenna Area

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Two prominent Tennessee businessmen were among four men killed Wednesday when their single-engine plane crashed in a cornfield just west of Atwater in southern Portage County.

The victims were Paul H. Beltz, 33, and his brother, Leslie, 28, Memphis developers; Howard L. Cooper, 23, also of Memphis, and Loren J. Gates, 32, of Buffalo, N.Y., believed to be the pilot.

The Highway Patrol said the plane, being flown by instruments because of poor visibility, lost contact with the Akron-Canton Airport, indicating that its navigational equipment had failed. Cause of the crash was not determined.

The patrol said the plane, en route from Buffalo to Louisville, Ky., exploded as it hit the ground.

She broke into tears after pushing her way through a crowd of some 100 persons who swarmed around her on the sidewalk as she left the hotel to take up residence in a private home. A stony-faced Mrs. Nhu is shown at right as she leaves her hotel as police lead interference through a crowd of newsmen and onlookers. (UPI Telephoto)

Wage Boost, Benefits Eyed By Teamsters

400,000 Workers Would Be Involved In 3-Year Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union will serve the nation's trucking industry with contract demands for about $250 million a year in increased pay and fringe benefits for more than 400,000 workers.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said the proposed three-year "master contract" to be mailed out Friday to representatives of 16,000 trucking units is the biggest single labor agreement ever proposed.

In their first bid for a nationwide contract covering approximately 85 per cent of the U.S. trucking industry, the Teamsters are asking:

1. Pay increases of 15 cents an hour per man per year for three years.

2. $1 more a week for pensions and $1 more a week for health and welfare.

3. Other fringe benefits including three days off with pay in case of death in a union member's immediate family, better vacation benefits, pay for jury service, two more paid holidays and 10 cents an hour for dental care.

Hoffa had previously announced a demand that management build and maintain a $1-million dental and optical care center for union members.

Hoffa, who announced the demands Wednesday after hashing out details with a 75-man committee representing all Teamsters locals, called the proposals "a tremendous step forward" for his union.

Teamsters truck drivers, helpers, mechanics, clerks and other employees to be covered by the contract now average about $3.17 an hour plus $6 a week in pension benefits and $3.50 a week for health and welfare.

Hoffa, at a news conference, repeated earlier statements that there is no danger of a nationwide truck strike.

He also said he does not expect the trucking industry to

Power Vacuum Created

More Instability Expected In Viet

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The passing of the Diem government in South Viet Nam has created a power vacuum that could lead to more instability and upheaval.

The transition from family dictatorship to military junta has been immediate, smooth and relatively bloodless. Army units were back fighting the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas within hours after the Saigon government was overthrown.

Civil administration has been almost undisturbed; with few exceptions, the same faces were in the same government offices Monday morning.

The big change is that the nation is now ruled by a committee instead of a family.

But there is no guarantee this committee will work harmoniously. And in the absence of an established political leader in the group, some observers feel the generals may eventually fall to wrangling.

Despite the naming of civilians to a provisional government, the generals will continue to hold the real power for a long time, according to present indications.

One general on the junta said Wednesday he thought it might be 6 to 12 months before a civilian government with full power could be elected.

This leaves a lot of time for political juggling or even a counter-coup.

The provisional government treatments, transportation and direct patient service.

Posters, coin cannisters and money cards have already been distributed in most public places in the district. Letters of solicitation have been sent to commerce and industry.

Women of Moose Lodge 642 are in charge of coin cannisters, and the committee includes Permelia E. Kilmer, chairman, Marie Tweed, Leona Swiger, Mildred Johnson, Mildred Springer and Ida Skinner.

In charge of the house solicitation will be the Job's Daughters, headed by Holly Lampman, and Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, with Jack Geren as master councilor.

Jerry Lewis, comedian, is national chairman of the MD appeal.

Last year, counting the house-to-house canvass and cannister collections, the chapter realized a total of $5,665.83.

foot leaving Harris to face the charges.

He followed through with Lillie's affidavit on Aug. 20, winning a motion for a new trial. That set the stage for today's hearing in which Lillie testified.

Lillie reiterated the facts in his affidavit. He said at the request of Harris' son he volunteered to drive the East End man home from a Chester boat dock. When the truck hit the other vehicle, Lillie became frightened and jumped out and ran, he said.

Judge Chertoff warned Lillie in advance this morning that he need not testify and told him he might be "talking yourself into jail." But Lillie said he understood and wished to testify, regardless.

Following the hearing, Judge Chertoff dismissed the charges against Harris and ordered his bond released. Then he ordered charges of leaving the scene of an accident filed against Lillie — based on his own testimony and affidavit.

Lillie is due to appear tomorrow morning. He will be represented by Atty. W. S. Foulks, who was counsel for Harris.

Miner said he didn't hear any car pull away when the bandit left and doesn't know how he left the area. Deputies notified district police and the Carroll and Stark County sheriff's departments and the Highway Patrol.

Sheriff Russell VanFossen said the investigation so far has not located anyone who saw the intruder enter or leave the tavern.

Miner described the bandit as about 5 feet 11, of medium build and wearing black gloves and a black jacket or sweater.

All Of Us Are Interested

According to high-level word from Washington, Secretary of State Rusk is briefing senators on the real meaning of the political coup in South Vietnam that overthrew a government the United States has spent $2½ billion to keep in power.

As premier of South Vietnam under Emperor Bao Dai, Ngo Dinh Diem became the fair-haired boy of the United States. A referendum in 1955 ousted the emperor and established Diem as constitutional president. Thereafter, he and his brother did what all public officials must do in shaky political situations.

They kept themselves in power by knocking over their adversaries. They maintained a strong government, because if they had tried to do otherwise they would have been murdered years ago.

They were oppressive, ruthless and brutal. No one doubts that what they did to their enemies shouldn't have been done to dogs. It is not questioned, moreover, that what their enemies would have done to them was what finally was done to them—a brutal assassination.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has everything to gain and nothing to lose by declaring himself a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Whether or not the New York governor is successful in getting the nomination in 1964, the lessons of national politics would seem to David Lawrence indicate that anyone prominent enough to try for the nomination in 1964 is likely to try again in 1968 if his own party should lose.

There's another reason why Mr. Rockefeller probably has decided to make an active campaign irrespective of whether or not he wins.

It's that for several months now the Rockefeller candidacy has been frowned upon by many women voters. Previously, he was easily the front runner. The explanation of his drop in popularity usually given is the fact that the New York governor was divorced and then almost immediately afterward remarried. This occasioned widespread comment, and political analysts have referred to the expressions of disapproval not enough to be their president, thus subordinating personal issues?

From Mr. Rockefeller's standpoint, the latter thesis makes the campaign for the nomination might imply that he accepted personal aspects of the situation as controlling and that he felt the electorate would not judge him fairly on his actual qualifications to handle the office of president.

In this instance, however, the adverse criticism of many women voters has centered not only on the divorce and remarriage aspects but on the legal arrangements for divided custody of the young children involved.

WHAT WAS THE NEW YORK GOVERNOR TO DO? Should he accept any such judgment on his personal affairs and abandon national politics, or should he express himself unequivocally on public questions and issues and let the American people judge whether he is capable sues four years later turn toward those on which Mr. Rockefeller will have made an effective exposition. Time often heals many a political ailment.

While Mr. Rockefeller's strategy therefore can be analyzed as logical from his own standpoint, the biggest error he has made — one which may really cost him the nomination in 1964 — is the position he has taken on public issues.

He leans toward the so-called "liberal" side, and that doesn't happen to be the majority sentiment in the Republican party today.

HE WOULD BE FORGIVEN for even this by some voters, but, unfortunately, he recently said, in effect, that, unless Sen. Goldwater or any other aspirant is willing to run on a platform that suits the New York governor, he may not support the national ticket.

This has not been spelled out explicitly, but many observers have certainly gotten the impression that the New York governor wants the nominee and the Republican platform to conform to his views or he will bolt the ticket.

He hasn't used the word "bolt," but the implication is there. Unless it is cleared up, many Republicans will assume that the New York governor is getting ready to split the Republican party, which, of course, as in 1912, would merely result in an overwhelming electoral vote for the Democratic presidential nominee.

The voters command a man who stands on principle, but they don't like to see one of the leaders of a party assume what appears to some to be an all-or-nothing attitude. If the course is persisted in and the Republicans lose, it could doom a Rockefeller candidacy in 1968, as he would then be regarded as the man who wrecked the Republican party's chances and made easy the reelection of John F. Kennedy.

THEORETICALLY, the Republican party, in choosing a nominee and adopting a platform, operates on a representative basis. If the national party convention makes a decision, it is customary for defeated aspirants to accept the verdict in good sportsmanship and campaign for the successful nominee. Sooner or later, Gov. Rockefeller doubtless will state clearly whether he will accept the judgment of the convention on the platform and nominee. His speeches prior to the national convention advocating particular reforms or changes in governmental policy will receive much more dispassionate consideration inside his own party if he announces that he will support the national ticket.

Energy Expenditure Makes The Difference

When we eat more calories in food than we expend in the process of living, stored fat is the inescapable result. Still, some overweight individuals appear to gain much more readily than their slimmer sisters. So, the question arises, do people use foods differently?

For example: Take two women who apparently eat the same kinds of foods and approximately the same amount, yet one slowly but surely adds pounds while the other holds her own.

To solve this mystery, look away from the food angle for the moment, and put the spotlight on energy expenditure. Chances are the slimmer woman enjoys moving about in a sprightly, energetic fashion. She is the one who jumps up to get whatever is needed.

If the distance is not far, she wouldn't think of hailing a taxi. "It's only a short piece, let's walk," she will say. In short, the one who holds the weightline without effort is just naturally active, while the plumper gal instinctively practices economy of motion. The unequal energy output makes a big difference weight-wise.

Now let's take a closer look at the eating habits of our two models. On the same menu it not be answered.

Film Issuance Set By Beaver Center

The Screen News Digest film series, sponsored in area high schools by the Crucible Steel Co., is now being distributed in Beaver County by the Instructional Materials Center of the county school system.

It is quite likely that the inclined-to-gain gal averages more calories; not many more perhaps, but this small excess is cumulative. The result is creeping overweight. Does she enjoy her food more, or is it that she enjoys more food? The slimmer model will often leave a bit of butter on the plate and part of a roll, or not finish her dessert. The other gal always finishes everything on the plate and never leaves a crumb of dessert.

Those were some of the comments from Ohio newspaper executives entertained by President Kennedy at a two-hour luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Distribution in Columbiania County will continue as in the past, through the superintendent of East Liverpool public schools. The films are available to all schools — public and parochial.

High schools in Beaver County, desiring to schedule the monthly series of current event films, may contact Howard E.

Thorne, director of instructional materials, at the Beaver County Courthouse Annex at Beaver.

Formerly in Beaver County, Midland and Beaver Area High Schools received the films and made them available to other county high schools.

Crucible said the new method of distribution will give students throughout Beaver County a greater opportunity for exposure to current news events.

Beginning in September, this is the fourth consecutive year that district schools are receiving the films for classroom showing. Released in 10 monthly issues during the school year, the film program aims to provide students with an awareness of significant current events and an understanding of their impact on the world today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — "A very fine exchange of views" its power to settle the dispute. "A very delightful individual." "He'd done his home-work well."

The President met with 20 editors and publishers in what Thomas Vail, president of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, called a very general discussion. It was Vail who termed the session a very fine exchange.

The description of Kennedy as "a very delightful individual" came from Columbus Dispatch publisher Robert H. Wolfe, who described the conversation as pleasant.

Some of the subjects:

The Great Lakes maritime labor dispute — Kennedy assured Toledo Blade & Times president Paul Block Jr. that the govern-

Ohio politics — the President told Columbus Citizen-Journal editor Don E. Weaver he thinks

$1.5 Million Yearly Saving

Study Unit Asks Changes In Office Of Treasurer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in operations of the State Treasurer's Office would save $1.5 million a year, the Little Hoover Commission said today.

The report by a group of industrial management experts was among those asked on a searching survey of governmental operations.

Commission members limited their study to internal tax collection controls by the Treasurer's Office. The controls were termed adequate.

Commissioners recommended prompt refund of verified tax overpayments and an end to use of abatement certificates that now can be used only to pay future taxes credited to the general fund.

Under the abatement certificate system, the commission said, "the taxpayer may be able to collect from the state

The Uniform Public Deposits

tory Act of 1930 should be revised, the Hoover Commission recommended.

For the past 20 years, Ohio has maintained inactive interest earning accounts in various banks at exactly $70 million, yielding a "very satisfactory" return of about 3.92 per cent.

The commission said the treasurer should have authority to shift funds for maximum yield, consistent with reasonable safety. The two-year period for deposit of inactive funds should be changed to a one-year period, the commission added.

Another proposed change would permit the treasurer to make active deposits of state funds in banks throughout the state, instead of in banks with offices in Columbus as now required, the report said.

Active deposits last July stood at $134 million, an amount termed excessive by the commission. A lesser amount would free more public funds for investments to increase state income, it was pointed out.

"If an additional $50 million could be invested, the state would receive additional income of approximately $1.5 million if the interest rate was only 3 percent," the report said. The estimate was described as conservative.

The commission repeated an earlier recommendation for transfer of collection and receiving activities of the Treasurer's Office to the Finance Department.

The treasurer, sometimes called the state's banker, has custody of about $2.5 billion. That sum includes all funds and securities of the Industrial Commission, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, Public Retirement Systems and the Volunteer Firemen's Dependents Fund. In addition, he has custody of securities deposited by financial institutions and insurance and trust companies to assure good faith in their transactions.

Family In Blast
Fire Needs Help

Clothing and bedding still are needed for a California Hollow family who lost all their possessions when an explosion of natural gas fumes and fire destroyed their home Monday night. Glenmoor volunteer firemen reported.

The Richard Moffett family is without clothing and bedding, but has furniture, firemen said. The family is seeking a home in the Beaver Local area. They are residing temporarily with relatives.

Anyone desiring to donate items may contact Harry Reckner at FU. 5-1943 or Kenneth Mills, both firemen in Glenmoor.

Moffett suffered burns of the arms and face, but his wife and four children in the house escaped unharmed. Another youth was away at the time.

Occasional Light Rain Eases Drought More

Drought conditions are about over and additional light rain forecast for today will further alleviate the situation in the Tri-State area, although a "drencher" is needed to return the area to normal.

Intermittent light rain through tonight is predicted, along with strong winds, but mild temperatures will continue through Friday. There was occasional light rain last night.

The downtown had a reading of 49 at 6 a.m. and the day's high range will be 50 to 56 degrees with a low tonight of only 41 to 51.

Drought-Created Emergency Over; Town Gets Water

COLLEGE CORNER, Ohio (AP) — Water is pouring into this Butler County village's reservoir at last, and the drought-created emergency is over.

"The first water started coming through at 10 minutes of six," said Mayor Howard Fry

Wednesday night after the 7,540-foot pipeline to the Oxford Nike base was completed after hours of toil by volunteers, soldiers from the missile base and convicts from the Oxford Honor Camp.

The missile base is connected with the water mains of Oxford, a university town six miles to the southeast of this village of 1,000 on the Ohio-Indiana border.

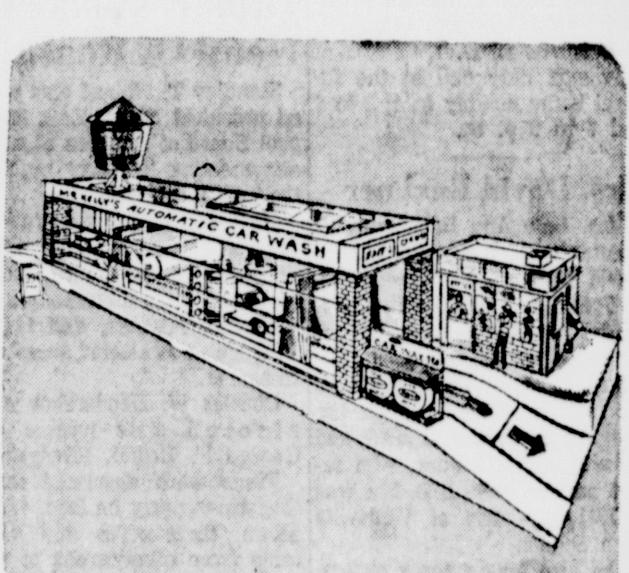

For several hours after the pipeline was completed, water from Oxford poured into College Corner's eight-million-gallon reservoir with pressure at the larger city remaining at normal. Then a portable pump arrived from Mount Orab. The pump was used there to force water from a lake to the hilltop town through another emergency pipe line built last month.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Physics Major Called 'Sweetheart Of Sci Fi'

If ever you should notice a technical error in a "Twilight Zone" script, don't blame it on Rod Serling. Write a scathing letter instead to a darlin', 19-year-old, brown-eyed brunnette named Virginia Trimble, whose title in the Serling organization is technical data consultant. To me, however, Miss Trimble always will be the sweetheart of Sci Fi. The sweet lass, who broke bread — and oh, so daintily — with me the other day during a brief New York visit, is a natural physics major at UCLA and a member of that campus' Gifted Students Forum.

"I KNOW IT sounds like we wear togas, but we don't," she said. "We invite professors and writers over to our meetings. They have so many nice brains to pick."

"Mr. Serling talked to us once a few months back and he mentioned that he'd been getting lots of letters from viewers about the number of scientific boobooos in the show and — well, there I was, there he was, and here I am."

In the 20 scripts that have been subjected to Virginia's keen scrutiny so far, there have been only two out-and-out errors, which the gifted girl considers an excellent score and a tribute to her boss' braininess.

IN ONE SCRIPT, the writer confused a galaxy with a planetary system; and in another space-travel show, Virginia discovered a discrepancy in the ratio of the time and distance involved.

Miss Trimble comes by her expertise naturally. Her pa is a researcher in magneto chemistry and "his enthusiasm has rubbed off on me."

She scored something of a personal coup among the grizzled Egyptologists awhile back by finding a "goody" no one knew about.

"I found," she said, "that the air shafts in Cheops' tomb were not for ventilation. One of the shafts leading up from the burial chamber pointed directly at the North Star, the other to the middle star of Orion's belt, both of which had a religious significance."

"You see, the king's soul was supposed to join the stars. The shafts were what you might call soul holes."

VIRGINIA, it should be said, made this discovery in North Hollywood and not at the pyramid at Eliziba.

"I haven't even gotten as far as the Los Angeles Airport until last Sunday," she reported. Her job keeps her on the hop, though, since "Twilight Zone"

Chester Park Group Meets

Mrs. Glenna Miller, 629 Carolina Ave., was named secretary of the newly-organized Chester Central Park Commission at a meeting with the City Park Commission Wednesday night at the park.

Nine organizations were represented at the initial meeting at which needs of the park were discussed and fund-raising projects aired.

Selection of a chairman for the group was postponed.

Harold Dickey, commission chairman, listed such needs as general maintenance of the building and grounds, painting of fences, seeding of grounds, maintenance of play equipment.

Dickey said 42 civic, church, lodge and service organizations were requested to send representatives, but added there were some conflicting activities last night.

Another meeting will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 at the park building to further plans to raise funds to maintain the park. Sixteen attended the session.

Riddle Died In Car Blaze, Witness Says

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tests indicated that Howard F. Riddle died in a fire that burned Robert K. Domer's car last April 23, a Cleveland pathologist has testified at Domer's murder trial in Stark County Common Pleas Court.

The testimony was given Wednesday by Dr. Lester Adelson, assistant Cuyahoga County coroner and a major witness in the state's efforts to prove that Riddle was alive when the car fire started. The defense claims Riddle died prior to the fire, possibly of a heart attack.

Domer, 44, a former Canton mortgage investment broker, is accused of killing Riddle in a manner to make it appear that Domer had committed suicide so that his beneficiaries could collect $288,000 in insurance.

Riddle, 54, was an Akron fruit peddler. His body was found in Domer's burning car along the Wayne-Stark County line west of Massillon.

Adelson testified that everything he found in his tests indicated "appearances of life in the fire."

Under cross-examination by defense attorney Harry W. Schmuck, the pathologist said that Riddle's enlarged heart showed evidence of several severe heart attacks but that the attacks had healed over into a scar long ago.

At Ecumenical Council

District Bishop Believes 2 More Sessions Needed

By BISHOP MUSSIO

ROME — Considering the present tempo of the Ecumenical Council, I believe two more sessions at least will be needed.

The third chapter on the Church has received so many suggestions that most likely it will have to be rewritten.

It is very heartening to see and hear how integrated the ecumenical idea is in the thinking of the Council Fathers. There is a carefulness in the talks to considerations of how the matter at hand will benefit others besides Catholics.

Time and again speakers have made suggestions intended to remove any possibility of misunderstanding, to convey the church's intention to serve other Christian churches and at the same time to respect their conscientious convictions. One bishop reminded the Council that Christ's light illuminates every man and not the Gentiles alone.

Another asked that the Church's relation to fallen-away Catholics be clarified so that they might not think themselves abandoned. Another bishop recommended that non-Catholics be considered not only as individuals but as composing communities and how the Church can approach such communities in her role as their spiritual servant.

These things take time but only by such a process can the mind of the Church be expressed. It takes time to correlate the many suggested amendments to a chapter, then present them to the Council for approval or rejection. One thing is clear, this Council means business, the kind of business we have been praying for.

The most hopeful of us never dreamed that the great changes desired in the Liturgy would be accepted so readily. When the Council is finished and final approval given by the Holy Father, it will not take a hundred years to have these liturgical reforms put into practice. Almost every bishop wants them to take effect in his time. He will vigorously work to see that they are a part and parcel of Catholic life within a short time.

Almost every bishop wants them to take effect in his time. He will vigorously work to see that they are a part and parcel of Catholic life within a short time.

This means that we will all live to feel the influence in our lives of these Council decrees.

Another speaker reminded the Council that schisms and heresies often come out from the faults of the Church's members.

In preparing their talks, the bishops often consult with the non-Catholic observers to learn their attitude on a subject. Before long the good observers will find themselves the most active "non-participants" in the Council.

It is a tremendous experience to see this ecumenical spirit working; to realize that we can live together helping each other to fulfill what the individual conscience is convinced is God's will; to do this without making Christ a stumbling block and source of the very strife and division He came to heal.

I wouldn't be surprised if before the Council is over, the non-Catholic observers might be asked to address the Council to benefit us with their thinking. They are being consulted behind the scenes. Why not let all the Consilium Fathers profit by their world of experience and their expert knowledge of the thoughts of the non-Catholic world?

The Church cannot be an irritant to those who love God, or a stumbling block. The Holy Spirit hovers over the Council, and that Spirit is Love.

Court Income Rises $1,200

Municipal Court income hit $4,550 in October, up $1,200 from the $3,350 collected in September, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court turned over to the city treasury $3,920 from last month's receipts, an increase of $778 from the $3,142 the city received from September revenue.

The amount paid the city was comprised of $429 in costs from civil cases, $3,417 in fines, costs and forfeitures in criminal cases and $74 in fines and forfeitures resulting from State Highway Patrol arrests.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $74 to the state, $11 to the county and $94 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court hit $9,145 last month, an increase of $766 from the $8,389 shown in September. Funds handled last month included $4,531 in the civil branch and $4,614 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 49 civil cases filed, 53 disposed of and 144 left pending; 74 city criminal cases filed, 70 disposed of an 82 left pending, and 6 state criminal cases filed, 40 disposed of and 97 left pending.

One 'Sure' Vote Backfired On Election Victor

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — One "sure" vote City Commissioner-elect Karl H. Hertz expected to receive in compiling his vote plurality in Tuesday's election backfired.

His campaign workers, he says, were telephoning some prospects Monday night — persons who would have difficulty getting to the polls and who needed transportation.

One such "friend" was a blind woman, said Dr. Hertz, a Witteman e b r g University sociology professor.

Arrangements were made to pick her up at noon Tuesday and transport her and her father to their voting precinct.

On arriving at the polling place, booth workers — in conformance with state law — accompanied the blind woman to the voting machine to pull the desired levers for her.

The poll workers asked for the woman's selections.

She was heard to reply firmly:

"Waterman and Valente."

Those two were Hertz opposition.

Yankees' Howard Named MVP In AL

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Elston Howard, the take-charge catcher who spurred the hobbled New York Yankees to a fourth straight pennant, became the first Negro ever named the American League's Most Valuable Player Thursday.

The National League MVP has been a Negro 11 times in the past 15 years.

Howard amassed 248 points to 148 for runner-up Al Kaline of Detroit. The versatile backstop drew 15 first-place votes and was named on all 20 ballots cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Southpaw pitching ace Whitey Ford of the Yankees was third with 125 points, including three firsts. He was followed by Minnesota slugger Harmon Killebrew with 85 and the Boston pair of Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Radatz. Outfielder Yastrzemski was the batting champion and relief pitcher Radatz posted the lowest earned run average of 1.98.

The vote was announced by league secretary Hy Hurwitz in Boston.

With his MVP predecessors Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris sidelined by injuries for sizable portions of the season, Howard led the league champions with a .287 batting average. The 6-foot-2, 205-pounder paced AL receivers with a .994 fielding average, was fifth in the league with 28 homers and eighth in runs batted in with 85.

"When something likes this happens, it makes baseball worthwhile," said Howard from his Teaneck, N.J. home into which he has just moved. "This is the greatest. You know, I was offered 35 or 40 college scholarships when I was in high school. I'm not sorry about choosing baseball, not now, especially."

The son of a New Madrid, Mo. high school principal, the 33-year-old Howard was master of the big, timely hit throughout the season.

Before the Los Angeles Dodgers swept the Yankees four straight in the World Series, Howard vowed he'd hit National League Most Valuable Player, pitcher Sandy Koufax.

Howard, who led the Yankees at bat against the Dodgers, got four of his five hits off Koufax, spoiling Sandy's bid for a no-hitter in the opener, and fanned only once against the strikeout king.

"I've been kind of on edge waiting to see what would happen in the voting," Howard admitted. "I had hoped I had a chance."

Howard has played the outfield and first base as one of the most versatile of the Yankee multiposition athletes.

Missing 61 games in 1962 with a broken collarbone, outfielder Kaline finished second in the MVP voting, the batting race, .312, and the RBI competition, 101, with 27 homers.

Yastrzemski hit for a .321 average, giving the Red Sox their fourth Silver Bat winner in the past six years. He also led the league in hits, 183, and doubles, 40.

Duke Should Extend Deacons' Losing Streak

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
There's the distinct possibility that Brian Piccolo may become a legend on the Wake Forest campus.

Even he would have to admit he's doing it the hard way.

Despite the fact his name gives every indication he's a member of the band, Piccolo is a member of the football team. There are those in Atlantic Coast Conference circles who will tell you there's not much difference. But that's not true.

The band has better timing. Piccolo is the only Wake Forest player to score this season. He kicked a 32-yard field goal, ran four yards for a touchdown and added the extra point in the first half of Wake Forest's opener against East Carolina. That's the last time the Deacons scored.

They've been shut out in six consecutive games, have had 218 points rolled up by their opponents and extended the nation's longest current losing streak to 17 games. And things are bound to get worse before they get better.

Duke knows it. The Blue Devils are next on the Wake Forest schedule. While the Deacons worked out Wednesday, trying to fashion an offense, Duke prepared for the game by working on scoring from close in and drilling on punt returns.

That's about all they figure to do Saturday. Last year, Duke won 50-0. Wake Forest hasn't improved. Duke has.

Elsewhere, the main focus was on the latest medical bulletins, with Syracuse and Southern California getting the worst news. The Orange have lost tackle Henry Huetter with a broken hand. Trojan center Larry Saguoss will have to undergo surgery for a bad knee.

Tom Myers, Northwestern quarterback, still is hospitalized with influenza and halfback Dick McCauley is unable to put any pressure on his twisted

East Liverpool hasn't defeated an Alliance football team in six years, but the Potters hope to do something about it Friday night when they invade Hartshorn Stadium.

The last time East Liverpool won a gridiron battle over the Aviators was 1956 when Bernie Allen was throwing footballs instead of baseballs as the Potters came out on top, 35-12.

Friday night's battle looks like a tossup, with two evenly-matched squads with the same season records of 7-2.

Alliance might have been favored if halfback Win Young hadn't been injured and lost for the season.

When the Aviators lost Young two weeks ago in the Cleveland East game, it left pilot Mel Knowlton's gridiron machine sputtering minus a big engine.

Young Was Big Loss To Alliance

Young, a fleet, shifty back who had gained almost 1,000 yards in six games and had scored 78 points, suffered a fractured hand.

Alliance hasn't gone into any real tailspin, but after Young was injured early in the Cleveland East game the Aviators had to battle hard to gain a 12-6 victory.

The following week, Canton McKinley poured it on the Aviators, 41-0, but Alliance came storming back last week to deal Akron St. Vincent a 34-0 loss. The Akron eleven has won only one game this season.

Besides losing Young, the Aviators had to get along without Greg Fraraccio, a 200-pound tackle who was considered the team's outstanding lineman. He is out for the season after being injured in the McKinley game.

Up Alliance way, they feel that Young was about 75 percent of the Aviator offense, so Knowlton, considered one of the best in the coaching ranks, has been trying to remodel Young's attack.

Replacing Young is Charles Spivey, a 150-pound back who is a three-year letter winner, but who had played only defense during his gridiron career.

Spivey, being given an opportunity to play offense last week against St. Vincent, scored two touchdowns, the first of his career.

John Blaser, a 155-pounder, who will line up at left half-back, is considered the biggest threat now since Young's departure.

He is strong and has tremendous power for his size. Blaser is always giving it that second effort for extra yardage.

The starting fullback remains undecided. It will be filled by one of two juniors, Ron Peturf (155) or Gary Rosile (175). Both run about the same, but Peturf is considered a better blocker than Rosile.

Doug Wade will be calling the signals at quarterback.

The Potters faced the 158-pound senior last year when Alliance blanked East Liverpool, 32-0. He was a better passer last year percentage-wise than has been shown this season.

Doug Wade will be calling the signals at quarterback. The Potters faced the 158-pound senior last year when Alliance blanked East Liverpool, 32-0. He was a better passer last year percentage-wise than has been shown this season.

He has thrown seven touch-down passes, but his completions have been only running about 33 per cent.

The Aviator forward wall is big, with Arthur Allen, a 15-year-old junior, tipping the scales at 250. If Allen doesn't start at center, John Fugatt (175) will be that spot.

Jim Dawson, a converted quarterback who weighs 200, will be at one end, with Dennis Doyt (170) at the other wing. Dan Candusso (170) and Mike Beall (170) will be at the tackles, while Mike Cindia (150) and Ray Ketler (220) will be at the guards.

Ketler is considered the Aviators' outstanding lineman. Very aggressive, Ketler has one touchdown this season on a blocked punt and has stolen the ball on several occasions. He will play guard on offense and tackle on defense.

Alliance has lost to mighty Massillon, 38-0, and Canton McKinley, 41-0. The Aviators, ranked in the top 10 most of the season, have defeated Lima, 36-7; Akron Central, 22-8; Cleveland Glenville, 20-0; Cuyahoga Falls, 20-0; Warren, 32-24; Cleveland East, 12-6, and St. Vincent, 34-0.

Kickoff at Alliance Friday night will be at 8.

Pros Fire Away In Sinatra Event

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)

Frank Sinatra's first golf tournament opened today on a course that has so many driving hazards it may be condemned by the National Safety Council.

On the average golf course, there may be out-of-bounds markers on four or five fairways. But at Canyon Country Club, scene of the $50,000 Sinatra Open, there are markers on 17 of the 18. And the one that has no out-of-bounds has a lake on one side.

Unintimidated, 150 professionals set out today on the first round of the 72-hole event, the 42nd of 43 tournaments on the 1963 PGA tour.

Obviously, the course favors the man with a consistently straight drive. And among those in the field with this competence are Mason Rudolph, Al Geiberger, Jay Herbert, Tommy Bolt, Bill Casper Jr., Doug Sanders, Billy Maxwell, Dow Finsterwald and Gay Brewer.

But the four-day tournament will not be just a driving test.

The greens at Canyon Country Club are enormous. One, No. 4, is 192 feet long — nearly two-thirds the length of a football field.

Sponsor Sinatra, who has been playing golf regularly for about 2½ years, figures it will take a 276 to win. Par is 71, and 276 would be eight under.

Seventeen of this year's top 25 money-winners are in the field. Among those absent are Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros and Gary Player, who rank first, second, third and fifth in earnings, in that order.

The big name among the older players here is Sam Snead. He doesn't often get this far west. Sam hasn't won a PGA tournament this year but ranks 17th among money-winners with $28,109.37.

$35,000 First Prize

$200,000 Golf Event Set For Detroit Next August

By CHARLES C. CAIN
DETROIT (AP) — Golfers from 60 countries will shoot at a $200,000 jackpot in the first Carling World Open Golf Championship at nearby Oakland Hills Country Club next August.

Details of the tournament, which has a $35,000 first prize, were disclosed Wednesday night by Richard Taylor, Carling's tourney director. He said the first round will begin Aug. 27.

Taylor returned last week from a world tour during which he worked out details of nine sectional tournaments in which the world's top golfers, professional and amateur, will compete.

Czechoslovakia is expected to be the only Communist country represented.

Taylor said Russia has not known good golfers and the same holds true of the other Iron Curtain countries.

The U.S. State Department gave tournament sponsors assurance that it would grant visas to any contestants, including Communists, except those from Communist China, North Korea and Albania, none of which is recognized by the U.S. government.

Each foreign player will have to qualify in his own country, Taylor said. For example, Gary Player, who has competed in many pro tournaments in the United States for the past few years, will have to qualify in his home country, South Africa.

The field will include 105 U.S. golfers. About 50 to 55 of them, including the top pros of the nation, will be picked by next July based on their showing in PGA tournaments.

In order to permit some of the lesser known local and regional U.S. pros to have a chance to qualify for the Carling Tournament, Carling will pick approximately 45 others based on their showing in some of next year's PGA events, winding up with the Hartford, Conn., Open July 26.

There will be 35 foreign entries, plus 10 other winners of certain golf tournaments designated by Carling to bring the field to about 145.

Tournament sponsors said it will be televised nationally in the United States and may be shown in Europe via Telstar if technical arrangements can be made.

Jim Brown Has Gained More Yardage Than Opponents

CLEVELAND (AP)—Has Jim Brown been worth more to the Cleveland Browns this season than all opposing runners combined have for their teams against Cleveland?

This is no moot question, because the National Football League statistics show Brown has carried 163 times for 1,194 yards while opposing runners have carried 237 times for just 858 yards.

Brown has carried fewer times this year, but he's averaging 7.3 yards per try, compared with 6.5 at this stage in his 1958 season, when he set the league mark of 1,527 in two less games.

Delaware Challenges First Place

By The Associated Press

Northern Illinois still is the nation's No. 1 small college football team in the latest Associated Press poll, but Delaware's Blue Hens have moved up to challenge the Huskies in the point-gathering struggle.

Led by record-breaking passer George Bork, Northern Illinois remained unbeaten and untied last Saturday but encountered stiff opposition before defeating Western Illinois 29-22.

Considering that Claiborne played at Kentucky with Babe Parilli and later helped to coach Alabama's Pat Trammel before becoming head coach at Virginia Tech, that's quite a mouthful.

Schweickert, 6-foot-1, 188-pound junior from Bon Air, Va., is perhaps the most exciting back to hit the Southern Conference area in a decade or more.

Statistics tell part of the tale. In seven games, Schweickert has run or passed for 1,141 of the 1,989 yards that Tech has gained, has scored six of its 20 touchdowns and passed for three others.

Motorist Gets Leniency In 2 Old Offenses

A 40-year-old East End man who pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on two old traffic offenses was given a six-month suspended jail term on each charge.

Joseph Tenley of Michigan Ave. pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated that dated back to Aug. 20 and a Sept. 3 affidavit alleging that he "knowingly concealed a material fact in making an application for a duplicate driver's license."

Atty. W. S. Foulks, counsel for Tenley, entered a plea in mitigation for his client before sentence was pronounced. He pointed out Tenley spent 15 days in City Jail while awaiting a hearing on the drunken driving charge and later committed himself voluntarily to Woodside Receiving Hospital at Youngstown for examination.

Tenley is ready to go back to his old job at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and a relative will furnish him with transportation, the attorney said.

The judge, reviewing the history of the case, pointed out that Tenley's driver's license was "confiscated" by the court and he was released on bond following his arrest for driving while intoxicated.

Later, Tenley was arrested while in an auto and investigation disclosed that he had obtained a new operator's permit, the court said. That led to filing of the second charge of Howard Lisk, district inspector for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Atty. Foulks said Tenley filed the application for a duplicate permit "because of a misunderstanding or while in a bewildered state of mind."

In the drunken driving case, the judge gave Tenley a suspended six-month term in City Jail. On the license application violation, the defendant was given a suspended six-month term in County Jail. He was ordered to pay the costs in each case.

The judge laid down three conditions for the suspension. He told Tenley to: 1. Refrain from drinking; 2. Be at home by midnight unless going to and from work; 3. Obey all the laws of the city and the state.

Youth Groups May Enter Floats In Midland Parade

Midland area youth groups, including high school classes, are invited to enter floats, decorated autos, etc., in the annual Christmas parade of the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce Friday, Nov. 29.

Judges and attorneys wouldn't let the conference, but it was learned the meeting concerned a ruling by Judge Rolf Fosseen in Hennepin County Court, where testimony began Monday.

Fosseen had ordered Prosecutor William B. Randall to deliver to defense counsel a statement given to police by a state witness who had sold $250,000 accident and travel insurance on the life of Thompson's wife, Carol.

Randall told the court he was "very, very sorry but I am unable to comply."

Attorneys were summoned to the judge's chambers. Fosseen returned to the bench soon and announced court recessed. The Supreme Court was the next move.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of four, was bludgeoned and stabbed in her home March 6. The state claims the crime was engineered by Thompson, 35, so he could collect more than $1 million in life insurance and marry another woman. The woman hasn't been identified.

Attorneys said Tenley filed the application for a duplicate permit "because of a misunderstanding or while in a bewildered state of mind."

In the drunken driving case, the judge gave Tenley a suspended six-month term in City Jail. On the license application violation, the defendant was given a suspended six-month term in County Jail. He was ordered to pay the costs in each case.

Firm Resells Plant Tract

The Stauffer Chemical Co. has apparently abandoned plans to construct a plant along the Ohio River in Hancock County.

A 27-acre tract on Route 66 purchased by Stauffer in 1958 has been re-sold to its original owner, the Monongahela Power Co.

According to records filed in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland, the utility bought back the land for $107,725.

A check of old land records disclosed that Stauffer purchased the tract June 30, 1958, and was to furnish plans for a new chemical plant within a month. It is recalled the company made test borings on the property, but did not proceed further.

The old deed provided that Monongahela could re-purchase the land if the chemical plant was not built, and provisions were that the utility was to pay $3,000 less than what Stauffer paid in 1958.

Formerly known as the E. W. Hewitt farm, the acreage lies between Waterford Park race track and Globe Brick Co. It contains railroad facilities.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court will review the Hancock County case in which only two judges of a three-judge trial panel concurred in the arson conviction of former truck driver Royal Robbins.

The high court decided Wednesday to consider the legality of the conviction, and its findings could have far-reaching effects in similar situations.

Hancock County Appellate Court ruled that Robbins, now

In another arson case, the high tribunal declined to review the appeal of a Summit County man, Melvin C. Croston, from his conviction for burning his home in Green Township in 1961. Croston contended the weight of evidence showed he was innocent.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Having been in the fur cleaning and storage business for more than 30 years, I was shocked to read the letters you sent me from women stating they store their furs in a can or bag and then put them in their deep freeze. THEY ARE WRONG.

The leather becomes very stiff and brittle and it's possible the fur or skin might break if mishandled. Also, the creases in the lining will be almost impossible to press out.

Furs should be thoroughly cleaned or fumigated before storing to make sure there are no moth eggs present. Moth eggs can do great damage even if placed in a fur vault. Cold air simply retards the action of the larvae.

Gentle brushing of the fur with the hand or a brush will not remove any soil or grease as your readers state.

Women should not consider the cost of cleaning and storing their furs as an expense. Modern methods of fur care actually tend to make the hairs water repellent and crush resistant, adding years to the life of fur garments.

JACK ABRAMS.

Many of you have written to me that you were storing your furs in deep freezers. This is an answer to your letters from a furrier who has been in the business for more than 30 years.

Let's take his word for it. Eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your cream deodorant dries out before you have finished the jar, just run a little water into the lid of the jar, shake it lightly and screw the lid back on tightly. Enough moisture remains in the lid of the jar (after shaking the excess water off) to keep the cream from drying up.

C. BOOTH.

DEAR HELOISE: My son's school teacher had all the children take a piece of cotton, dip it in vegetable oil and wipe the tops of their screw-top paste and glue jars before even beginning to use them. This prevents them from sticking! I now use this method at home.

MOMMY.

BONNIE ARNOLD.

Just try adding one tablespoon of vinegar to the water in which you boil fresh or frozen okra. I use one tablespoon vinegar for about six tablespoons of okra. This not only eliminates the stickiness but adds flavor and keeps the okra fresh and green looking!

JOAN LEONARD.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm in agreement with you and all of our friends about that wonderful household product ... vinegar.

The official count will cover returns from cities, villages, townships and school districts that elected officials and decided the fate of 27 special questions and issues. The county's vote also will be tabulated on a statewide $250,000 bond issue and countywide levies for child welfare and care of tuberculosis patients.

Crucible Names Aide As Project Manager

William J. Theil of Rochester has been appointed project manager in the profit improvement and cost reduction department at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., J. G. Gill, vice president of production, announced.

Theil will be responsible for the accounting activities in the department.

Fund-Raising Project Set At Meeting Of Chester PTA

More than 125 attended a meeting of the Chester Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday night at the Chester Junior High School when plans were made to sell candy as a fund-raising project.

Robert Blake was elected vice president, replacing Lloyd Mansfield who became president after the resignation of Mrs. Wilbert Sayers.

It was announced that parents' conferences with teachers will be held Nov. 22 at the schools. Parents are to telephone or visit principals' offices for appointments for the conferences.

It also was announced that report cards will be distributed Tuesday in all schools but the primary classes, which will get report cards Nov. 19. The delay for the primary school resulted because the cards were not printed in time. Mrs. Audrey Litman, elementary supervisor, explained.

Charles McKinney, Hancock County assistant superintendent, discussed the new school organization and buildings and listed advantages of the present junior high school system, even though students are attending half-day classes until the new high school is opened.

Sues U.S. On Taxes

WHEELING (UPI) — Thomas E. Millsop, chairman of the board of National Steel Corp., sued the federal government yesterday in an effort to recover taxes he contends were illegally collected from him in 1956.

He alleged he should have been allowed to deduct $15,666.87 for expenses incurred during the year.

Board Begins Official Tally For Balloting

The County Election Board convened this morning in its W. 6th St. office to begin the official canvass of returns from the general election Tuesday.

The tabulation may be completed Friday night or could extend into Saturday.

A count completed Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. The official canvass will produce the figures on every contest and issue that will be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus. As part of the canvass, the board checks returns against poll book entries from every one of the 165 precincts.

Two East Liverpool races decided by a hair's breadth will be watched particularly in the official canvass.

The unofficial count credited Donald E. Smith, Gardendale Democrat, with a one-vote victory over S. James Welch, the Republican incumbent, for the Third Ward Council seat.

George E. Willshaw, Republican, apparently won the Council presidency by a 21-vote margin over Arch H. Smith, Democrat.

If Welch or Smith decide to seek a recount, they have five days following certification of the official count to file the application.

The official count will cover returns from cities, villages, townships and school districts that elected officials and decided the fate of 27 special questions and issues. The county's vote also will be tabulated on a statewide $250,000 bond issue and countywide levies for child welfare and care of tuberculosis patients.

$2,500 Loss Set In Midland Fire

About $2,500 damage was estimated in a fire which gutted the second floor of the home of a Midland family Wednesday night.

Willie P. Glover of 30 2d St. was watching television when he smelled smoke coming from the bedrooms. Investigating, he found the entire second story in flames.

He led his wife and nine children safely from the house then called Midland firemen.

The family lost most of its possessions but were supplied with clothing by the Salvation Army. Glover is employed by the borough.

Twenty firemen and three trucks responded to the call. Defective wiring was blamed.

Dick Donovan and Jack Kramick both turned in three shutouts for the Cleveland Indians last season.

Gist Of Council Report

Halting Poor Relief Shifts Burden To Other Groups

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cutting off all poor relief grants in a county does not force people to become self-sufficient; it only shifts the burden from taxpayers in general to certain groups in the community.

This is the gist of a report released Wednesday by the Community Health and Welfare Council, which made a study of what had happened in Clermont County 15 months after all aid payments were cut off in April 1961.

"Stopping poor relief grants did not force people to become self-sufficient," the report said. "Needs continued and ways, often difficult and destructive to morale, had to be found to meet them. Families managed by scraping along from crisis to crisis."

One result of the cut-off was a general deterioration of health aid, and only 18 of 250 children of families involved had received all of the smallpox, diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus immunizations. The rate for polio immunizations was even lower—15 per cent.

Among adults, "mental and physical problems were limiting the employability of the chief wage earner" in more than half of the 69 cases studied by investigators.

At the time the aid payments ended, there were 162 poor relief cases in Clermont County and they received about $25,000 a month. Fifteen months later, investigators found 49 cases had qualified for some kind of aid involving federal funds, 33 had undergone changes not related to the aid cut-off and 11 could not be located.

"In some form, the community paid and is still paying the bill for most of these cases since the needs of these families and children for help have continued," the report said.

"The burden shifted from civic resources to landlords, grocers, physicians, to churches, civic groups, voluntary agencies,

Lowell Thomas, 71, Admitted To Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — Lowell Thomas, 71-year-old radio news commentator, world traveler and author, was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital early to day.

Officials said he was in satisfactory condition. Thomas reportedly was suffering from a heart ailment.

He appeared at a testimonial dinner Wednesday night to honor George F. Pierrot, host of a locally televised adventure program.

Cleo, A Mouse, New Space Hero Of Kids

FLORENCE, Colo. (AP) — Cleo, a mouse at the ready, is the newest space hero of young stars in Victor Recko's eighth grade science class.

Twice Cleo has made flights of 1,000 feet into the air in model payload rockets built by the class.

"We wouldn't dream of using anybody else," one girl student said.

2 Gunmen, $15,861 Sought After Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two gunmen and the $15,861 they took were sought today in the wake of an afternoon holdup at the Ohio National Bank's Clintonville office here.

The bank was busy with many customers Wednesday when two armed, stocking - masked men cleaned out six teller cages.

QUESTION: Why do ball bearings let wheels revolve so fast?

ANSWER: Friction is something created when two surfaces drag against each other. Movement, such as that of a piece of metal revolving inside another piece, is slowed down. There are many cases where wheels must revolve very rapidly—such as the wheels of your roller skates. The ball bearings inside your skates' wheels solve the problem of friction.

Notice that the ball in (1) touches the flat surface at only one small point; this reduces friction as it rolls. Inside the wheels of your roller skates are a set of shiny steel balls (2). These are set in a frame so as not to touch each other; one part of the ball rests on the axis or metal bar going across the skate and the other part takes the weight of the skate and you above it. As the wheels whirl around (4), they spin on the rolling balls with so little friction that they allow you to move very fast. Another important use for ball bearings is in the hub part of your bicycle wheels. These ball bearings allow the wheel to turn rapidly and make riding much more fun.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a pair of roller skates; start the wheels rolling by holding the skates and stroking them over a flat surface. Then set them down together and let them race each other at the word "go!"

Tommy Norrel of Simpsonville, S. C., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
